Immigration.

The agent of the Newberry Society, Mr. Bruggeman, leaves for New York this week, taking with him orders for immigrants. The Society has done much for the district in the introduction of a thrifty working class of laborers, but their means are now exhausted, and unless those who wish to secure laborers furnish the necessary funds, their orders cannot be filled. All who have given their orders are earnestly requested to deposit with Mr. R. McCaughin, the Treasurer, $18, for each single laborer ordered, and $50 for every family. And those who have not settled for immigrants already obtained, will please step into the Treasurer's office and do so at once. Without money the Society's operations must cease—so if our citizens will furnish the means, the Society will furnish the laborers.

The Legislature.

In another place will be found a set of resolutions, offered in this body. It is not our intention, nor do we believe that our readers would have us, to fill up columns after columns, with dull, flat and unprofitable proceedings which as yet amount to nothing, therefore we wait until something is done. One bill which has received its second reading, and which, no doubt, will become a law, may be mentioned, and this for the prevention of, and punishment of carrying concealed deadly weapons. The person violating shall, upon trial and conviction, be fined in a sum not exceeding five hundred, nor less than one hundred dollars, a subsequent conviction to involve a fine not over one thousand, nor less than five hundred.

The Elections—Their True Meaning.

If any reader is so exceedingly dull as to suppose for a moment that we propose to deliver any opinions upon the subject of politics, he has only to continue to the point of this article to find himself mistaken. The "elections" to which allusion is made in the caption are the elections made by the policy-holders in the Equitable Life Assurance Society, of the particular modes in which they will respectively apply their dividends. Every policy-holder in that prosperous Company is entitled every year to a dividend of the profits of the business. It is one of the merits of that institution that it offers so many advantageous modes of applying these dividends, among which the policy-holders can each year make their election. There are five methods, as follows: (1.) A large amount added to the policy, payable with it, exempt from future premium. (2.) A much larger amount added to the policy, and payable only in case of death within a stipulated time. (3.) A sum in cash, reducing the premiums as long as they are paid. (4.) A much larger sum in cash, reducing the premiums for the ensuing year. (5.) The lessening of the number of years throughout which premiums must be paid. These are advantages which no other Company in the country offers.

Gov. Scott's Message.

On the first page of this issue will be found such portions of message No. 1, to the Legislature, as are of particular interest. That there are many excellent suggestions contained in this document it is hardly necessary to say, the reader will discover that for himself, and if they are parried out will subserve the public interest. But there are objectionable passages, which were not expected, only one of which, however, we care to allude to. "After rehearsing the old, lugubrious tale of the killing of the 'lamented' senator and representative (which acts have been universally regretted by our citizens and press) he tells of an address to the Executive from a prominent individual, threatening still further outrages and additional victims," and that the "threat of assassination was published and repeated by the press without censure or comment." The author of the address alluded to is Col. Aiken, from whom there is no more honorable, high-minded and peaceable citizen in the State. Col. Aiken never intended to express any such threats as Gov. Scott charges him with, and the press, all the time in favor of peace, order, and quiet, say nothing censurable in his address, but on the contrary only an expression of indignation, for an uncalculated and unjust arrest and imprisonment, which any high-toned gentleman would have uttered. Such unwarranted, untimely and ungenerous language from Gov. Scott, is calculated to irritate and rankle in the heart, and we are disappointed in the hope entertained, that the Executive wished to heal all the old festering wounds of the past.

Leading Sympathy.

The Macon Ga. Telegraph has it that the author of Uncle Tom's Cabin, Mrs. Harriet Beecher Stowe, now reports having written that book, and wants to live just long enough to write another, to correct the mistakes made in Uncle Tom, and show how great a blunder she committed. From her former condition of sentimental attachment, she has lapsed into an unconquerable dislike and aversion, and like Squeers, the milk of human kindness in her bosom has all turned to curds and whey. Thus will it be with all the host of them, and the poor deluded negro have to turn back at last to his only true friends, his former masters.

The Contested Election.

The trial in the case of the contested municipal election in Charleston, has come to a close, the decision being adverse to the hopes of the Pillsburyites, and neither have the citizens' party gained anything for their candidate. The satisfaction is, however, that the city is not yet in the hands of Mr. P. and his crew.

The Delegation.

Of Pennsylvanians and Marylanders arrived in Columbia on Tuesday last. The following is a list of their names: D. Dechert and Lady, Hagerstown (Maryland) Mail; J. M. Cooper, Chambersburg (Pa.) Valley Spirit; Wm. M. Breslin, Lebanon (Pa.) Advertiser; A. J. Steenmar, Lancaster (Pa.) Intelligencer; Wm. Marr and Lady, Hagerstown Md.; D. Stille, George Bell, John Bell, Dan Winters, Ohio Brian, John McCauley, M. V. B. Dwyer, M. A. Tink, W. P. Kirkheart, H. F. Keikuk, Dr. W. P. Stonebraker, Mrs. Geo. Sheadle, Washington County, Md.; H. Snyder, Samuel Wells, Franklin County, Pa.; J. G. Wyatt, Sparkling Catawba Springs, N. C.

Election of Directors.

At a Director's Meeting of the Columbia and Augusta Railroad, held in Columbia, on the third, the following gentlemen were elected: Col. W. Johnston, of Charlotte; Gen. Wade Hampton, L. D. Childs, J. G. Gibbs, Edward Hope, R. W. Johnston, of Columbia; Paul Quattlebaum, of Lexington; Edward Thomas, Josiah Shibley, H. F. Russell, (Mayor) John J. Cohen, G. Jackson, of Augusta. The meeting then adjourned. At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Col. Johnston was re-elected President.

The trains on this road are now running through to Graniteville.

The Legislature.

In the report of the Seventh day's proceedings of the house, the following resolutions appear introduced by Mr. Turner: Whereas, more than three years have elapsed since the conclusion of the war for the supremacy of the Government of the United States, and whereas a large number of our citizens are still held under political disabilities by the Congress of the United States, because of their sympathy for and participation in the late war against the United States; and whereas we regard the punishment of this class of our citizens as having been equal to the demands of justice, and that they are willing and anxious to go forth to renew their allegiance to the Federal Government; and whereas we believe a course of conciliation and forgiveness is best calculated to secure the blessings of harmony, peace and prosperity to all classes of our people; and whereas His Excellency the Governor, in his messages to this General Assembly, has earnestly recommended that Congress be memorialized to remove all political disabilities from the citizens of South Carolina; therefore, be it,

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the State of South Carolina concurring, That we hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States to remove the political disabilities from all the citizens of South Carolina now laboring under the same.

On motion of Mr. George Lee, it was referred to the Committee on political disabilities, with instructions to report as soon as practicable.

Mr. Doyle introduced the following preamble and resolutions, which were referred to the Committee on Education: Whereas, Section 6 of General Order No. 139, Headquarters Second Military District, entitled "Appropriations for the year commencing October 1, 1887," among others, $25,000 is set apart for the support of free schools, who are now remains in the Treasury and undrawn; and whereas many teachers in the State on the faith of said appropriation, opened and taught their schools, admitting poor scholars to the full benefit of instruction; therefore, be it,

Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, That the Treasury of the State be authorized and required to pay over to the school Commissioners of the various counties the pro rata share of the said appropriation due to each county.

Resolved, That each school Commissioner, on receiving the share due to his county, shall give reasonable notice, by advertisement or otherwise, to teachers to render in their accounts for tuition of poor scholars, from 1st of October, 1887, to 1st of October, 1888; and after estimating the pro rata sum due to each, shall pay over the same in accordance with the laws heretofore governing Commissioners of Free Schools, except where the same is modified by said order.

SHOOTING IN MARION DISTRICT.—The Marion Crescent, of the 2d instant, says: "A note handed us, addressed to Sheriff Collins, informs us that Mr. Rector Hinds, living West of the Pee Dee, in this County, was shot and dangerously wounded while in his store, on the night of the 20th November. The assassin, a negro, was a freedman, whose name is given to the Sheriff; he concealed himself in the bushes near the store and shot Hinds through the back door."

The Democrats were successful in the Augusta (Ga.) municipal election, on Wednesday—electing the entire ticket. Everything passed off quietly.

LOCAL ITEMS.

SALE DAY.—Notwithstanding that Monday was most blustering and inclement, a large number of persons were in town. Commissioners' Sales consisted of a small lot of the estate of Judge O'Scally, of about 30 acres, which brought the low sum of $196 for the whole, 3 lots belonging to the Hunt estate, of 20 acres, $2240; one tract of 400 acres, $1800; and one tract of 88 acres, $1610. The Sheriff sold one tract of 400 acres for $2000.

AN ACCEPTABLE PRESENT.—One of the best and most appropriate Christmas presents which may be made, is a photograph likeness. It will do for friend or sweetheart. And not like other trifles, which are often cast aside and soon forgotten, it will be a constant reminder. Have Mr. Wiseman take one for you. His pictures are really excellent. He lives next door to our shanty, and is always on hand in business hours.

REV. N. A. EVANS.—We had the pleasure on Sunday morning last, of hearing this eloquent and Christian minister preach his first discourse, as their pastor, to the Baptist congregation of this place. His discourse was most effective and plain, appealing directly to the hearts and consciences of the people with and for whom he is to minister in spiritual things the next year, and we feel confident met with an earnest response. His closing appeal, that his hearers might stand by him, and give him their hearty co-operation, was impressive and solemn. God grant that he may have divine strength showered upon him, and the aid of his congregation, both so feelingly prayed for, that his sheaves may be many.

A BIG DRUNK.—We have seen whiskey hauled by the wagon load time and again, but it was generally contained in barrels. On Friday afternoon the order was reversed, for instead of the fighting fluid being in barrels, it was in the skins of the noisiest, drunkenest set of beings, white and black, ever tumbled into the body of a wagon. It was the drunkest crew seen in a long time, and they made more noise than the law allowed; even the mules seemed to be affected. It is impossible to say where they landed, or how soon, but as the devil takes care of his own, it is right to conclude that they turned up somewhere.

ANYTHING BUT THAT.—Dip the Mississippi dry with a tea-spoon, twist your head into the toe of your boot; make postmasters perform their promises; send up fishing hooks with balloons and bob for stars; when a rain storm is coming like a brickbat, choke a mosquito with a brickbat; in a gloop, make all things heretofore considered impossible, but never attempt to coax a woman to say she will, when she has made up her mind to say she won't!

The man who arrived at the above conclusion must have had an extremely difficult case to contend with. We maintain that there is no more intelligent dress pattern, or anything else brought in as a resolve. Women are susceptible of reason—if a present is at the other end of it.

The season of festivities is approaching, and the people big and little, are on the look out for the various little delicacies, without which the Christmas holidays would be only as other days, or seasons. Good things are now looked for, and where to find them is the question. Well, we have been requested, through private dispatches from "Old Kriess" (not our Chris), but Kriess Kringler or Santa Claus, as some of the young folks remember him, to state, that he intends to make our very particular friend, Dr. Theodore Gouin his agent, and we congratulate him on so excellent a choice. Dr. Gouin already stands high in the admiration of the children, (let alone other people) and now with his help given him by old Santa Claus, his popularity will largely increase. Call on the Doctor.

As was hoped, and might have been expected, Gen. Julius Johnson, known from Dan to Beersheba as the greatest drovost the country ever produced, came to town just in the nick of time last week, with a fine lot of hogs which were disposed of by torch-light, so hungry were our people for sausage. The quickest time on record was made by Julian, for arriving in the night, by next morning he was cleaned out, and left on the 10 o'clock train for another lot, which came to hand on Friday night, and were disposed in almost like hurry. His price was 10¢. The other chap mentioned before, wanted 12¢, and getting here first, sold a portion at that price, which the hasty buyers have repented of ere this. So much for not looking before leaping.

OUR CORNER.—We cannot help noticing the efficient management of our worthy Intendant and Council. In their hands the town is as quiet as a church mouse. Energy, decision and a prompt administration of justice to all parties have thus far marked their course, and we sincerely trust such a condition of affairs may be kept up to the end of their reign. Much of the present order is due to the indefatigable and ubiquitous marshal, Mr. Bas. Blease, and we compliment him on the able discharge of his arduous duties. It may not be amiss to call the attention of Council to the indiscriminate use of pop-crackers; some restriction might with propriety be placed on their use in the streets, and much danger be avoided. Horses are made to run away sometimes, and limbs and buggies broken, and houses burnt, by their careless use.

Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 2nd, was one of the twelve shortest days in the year, the sun setting at 4.23. After the 14th, the afternoons will begin to lengthen, when the mornings will be 24 minutes shorter, the sun rising at 7.06; on the 31st December, at 7.80; and continue so till January 8. The shortest day from sunrise to sunset, will be December 21. So says the Courier, who got it from the Almanac.

The Guyascutus will be exhibited in Columbia, on the 12th inst., by Gen. Dan Castello, previous to which and before the 15th, his grand war chariot will be drawn through the streets by eight Sacred Camels. What a time there will be, to be sure, a real guyascutus, eight sacred camels, six lions, one hundred horses, one jackass, two clowns, a striped mule, and—but this is surely enough for one time.

Gen. N. A. Evans, a gallant Confederate officer, brother-in-law of General M. W. Gary, died suddenly at his residence in Midway Alabama, a few days since, of disease of the heart. He leaves a widow and four children.

George W. Williams, Esq., of York, an old and distinguished member of the Bar, died in Columbia, on the 2nd of December.

Gov. Pickens, we are glad to learn, by the Edgefield Advertiser, has recovered from his late severe sickness.

The same paper says, that one night last week, two negroes drove up to Gov. Pickens' Cotton Screw, in a wagon, and stole a bale of cotton. The cotton was traced to Augusta, where it was sold. One of the negroes was caught, and having disgorged $50, was placed in jail, the other is still at large.

Also under the heading of Lugalubious, laudable the loss from office of Mr. W. P. "Doris," so long the acceptable ordinary of Edgefield: Under the dark order of things, he had to give up to one D. L. Turner.

MADISON COURTHOUSE, December 4.—The facts in regard to the trouble at the county jail here are briefly as follows:

About ten o'clock yesterday morning the prisoners, sixty-seven in number, made a desperate attempt to break jail. They succeeded in forcing open the cells, and reached the outer door, when Sheriff Dickson, with a posse of citizens, prevented them further egress by firing through the windows from the outside. Although the effort to escape has thus been checked, the prisoners are not subdued, and still hold possession of the jail. They are closely watched, however, by the citizens, and it is hoped that a strong guard and no rations will ultimately bring them to terms. The jail birds, on the other hand, affirm that they will never yield, and that they will sally forth, 40-night. Much excitement prevails in the town.—Daily News.

MA HIXSON, December 1.—Judge Chase has decided several confessions cases sustaining Judge Underwood's previous decisions. The decisions involve the declaration that the confessions laws were not inapplicable and plea by the defendants in admiralty, the District Court had full jurisdiction to decree confiscation and sale. Judge Chase, however, desired the question to come before a full bench of the Supreme Court, and appeal on writ of error was granted.

THE PASSENGERS OF THE GAUSS.—One hundred and sixty-five of the emigrants on the Gauss, who were destined for Baltimore, left yesterday for that city on the steamer Carroll. We regret that the efforts to retain these people were fruitless. We believe that South Carolina could furnish them with as good a home as could be found in any other State, and our need for their services is well known. We trust, however, that the efforts to encourage emigration will not cease, and that they may be of more avail on another occasion.

[Courier, 3d.]

HAYES CITY, December 2.—Gen. Custer captured a Cheyenne village, of Black Kettle band, killing 150 and capturing 63 Indians, 1,000 horses and mules. Fifty one lodges were destroyed. Captain Louis Hamilton was killed, and Col. Barnette, wounded. Major Elliott is missing. The soldiers killed were 19; wounded 14. Custer returns to Fort. Black Kettle, the "principle" Chief, was killed and the tribe badly crippled.

NEARLY HUNG.—Last Friday, a white girl named Kennedy, while passing through the woods, near Memphis, Tenn., was seized on by a negro and horribly violated. The next morning he was found by citizens; identified by the child, taken to the scene of violence and hung.

There is, after all, a chance that a colored Representative may have a seat in the Fortieth Congress. By the rejection of the returns of certain parishes in Louisiana, Menard, a negro, is declared elected to fill the unexpired term of Mann, Democrat, and deceased.

Captain Wieting, of the ship Gauss, who recently arrived in Charleston with a load of emigrants, died in that city on Wednesday last.

Twelve negroes, first class field hands, formerly worth $1.25 each, sold lately, in Havana, at an average of $300.

110 LEBANON ST.,

NEW YORK, October 13, 1887.

DEAR SIR:—It is with much pleasure that I say to you that I consider the Plantation Bitters of untold value. In the fall of 1887 I was taken with Chills and Fever, with the most severe pains in my chest and head. It was with great difficulty that I could breathe. My lungs were greatly distressed, and there was severe pain in my right side, by spells. I could hardly get up from my bed. I called a Doctor, who attended me all winter without the least benefit. About the first of August I commenced using your Plantation Bitters and have used most of the time since, and I am now well and strong, able to do all my own work and the care of a large family.

Yours, &c., SUSAN WILSON.

OBITUARY.

DICK, at his residence in Newberry, of congestion, on the 11th of November, Lt. W. S. CANNON, in the 38rd year of his age.

Lt. Cannon was a member of the Baptist Church, in which faith he died, after an illness of short duration. He served in the 20th Regt., S. O. V. during the late war, and gained distinction by his strict devotion to the service of his country. His many friends and fellow-soldiers will be pained to hear of his death, which has happened in the flush of early manhood, and when the promise of a life of usefulness and honor, stretched out so invitingly before him. But all that was earthly of our friend is hidden from mortal sight, and he sleeps the sleep which knows no waking, till the trumpet of the Archangel shall sound, and the fetters now binding him be broken. May the garment of righteousness be ready for him at the great awakening. He leaves a sorrowing widow, a tender infant, parents and friends to mourn his early death.
